DISAPPOINTMENTS.

LONDON, July 6. Reuter's Correspondent at American Headquarters, telegraphing on the 5th, says: -Mr. Lloyd George, addressing th American troops after a review said: "Germany can have peace to-morrow with the United States, France and Great Britain if she accepts the conditions voiced by President Wilson yesterday, but the Kaiser and his advisers have not given any sign of their intention to accept them.'

Mr. Lloyd George further said: "Your presence is a source of great disappointment to the Kniser, who never quite expected you. Kaiser's advisers counselled budly when they said that America would never come into the war His next illusion was that, owing to submarinism, there would be no ships. The Kaiser is now beginning to realise that defeat, sure, certain and inevitable, is staring him in the BRITISH - AIRCRAFT ACTIVITY.

Lomon, July 6. The Air Ministry's official report

On the morning of July 5, aeroplanes heavily attacked the railway station at Coblenz. Observation was difficult owing to the clouds. We also successfully attacked Sharbrucken, where we brought down one of the attacking, neroplanes and drove down another. All our machines returned.

'NAYAL AIRCRAFT OPERATIONS.

LONDON, July & The Admiralty states that during the lst, 2nd and 3rd July, seroplanes dropped fifteen and a half tons of bombs. Fires were started at Bruges and also at Varssenaire aerodrome. * Bursts were observed among the sheds, hangars and warehouses and on Marinaelter serodrome, also on the lock-gates at Zeebrugge and on sheds and warehouse on the quay at Ostend.

OUR AERIAL SUPREMACY.

ANXIETY AND ALARM THROUGHOUT GERMANY.

London, July 5. This has been a week of intense air fighting, the outstanding fea ures of which were the abustmally high percentage of German machines destroyed by the British, and the increasingly menacing portent of the British air raids over Germany whose larger and more distant cities are now in constant fear of attuck. This is occasioning a rapidly spreading feeling of anxiety and alarm throughout Germany. The new British Independent Flying Force is especially conspicuous by a series of heavy and telling clows against big industrial centres in the Naval airmen, have also vigorously daringly engaged in offensive operations against vital enemy sea stations on the Belgian coast.

STANDARD SHIPS FROM THE FACTORY.

NOVEL PLAN TO SPEED "UP BUILDING.

Anew method of building standardised ships, which promises to be much more speedy than the old is to be adopted

Under the chairmanship of Sir William Robertson, Lord Lieutenant of Fife, a company has been formed to start ship building on a large scale on a site at Burntisland, on the Firth of Forth. Two experienced men, well known in merchant shipbuilding circles, are directing the preparations, which are niw well forward. To obtain the utmost rapidity in output the Burntisland Shipbuilding Co., Ltd., have arranged with large steel works whereby the greater portion of the steel atructure of the ships will be produced and finished up to the stage of actual erection in these works. Thus there will be a great saving of time and plant in the shipyard, which will be able to commence shipbuilding almost.

The technical advisers connected with the scheme have designed a special type of vossel which will enable teal standardisation to be applied to construction. Hitherto standard shipbuilding has been confined to assimilation of size and type. Under the proposed scheme all the parts are to be standardised.

GERMANS CLAIM NAPOLEON.

Having spent many profitless years in attempting to persuade the world that Shakespears was a German, the greedy Hun is now opening a campaign to explain why Napoleon was of similar nationality. Herr Otto Hauser, the suthropologist, declares that Napoleon's mother was of German descent. Ho states quite absurdly that her maiden name Ramolini is a corruption of Rammlein. He might, while he is about it. put in a similar claim for Romulus and Ramus. Ramolini is unquestionably of Remus. Ramolini is unquestionably of Latin extraction, and is so like the Latin ramulus, a twig, the diminutive of ramus, as to leave no doubt concerning its derivation.

SUNDAY'S TELEGRAMS.

THE WESTERN FRONT. BRILLIANT AUSTRALIAN OPERATIONS.

OVER 1,000 PRISONERS TAKEN.

LONDON, July 4. Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig,

The operation this morning to the south of the Somme was completel successful. It was carried out by the Australians, assisted by some detachments of Americans, and supported by Tanks. Our objectives were taken and held. We took possession of the woods at Vaire and Hamel and the village of Hamel.

In conjunction with this operation the Australians attacked to the east ENEMY TRENCHES PENETRATED. of Ville-sur-Ancre and completely

Our lines were advanced $00 yards on a 1,200 yards front. The prisoners captured in these operations exceed 1,000. Many machineguns and other material were taken.

HUGE BOOTY CAPTURED.

LONDON, July 5, Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig

The total prisoners taken in Thursday's successful operations on the Somme exceeds 1,300. A German field gun, 100 machine-guns and a number of trench mortars have already been counted." A counter-attack on our new positions to the east of Hamel on the 544 night of the 4th was easily repulsed. We carried out a successful raid in the Beaumont-Hamel sector and repulsed and the Honourable Artillery carried an attempted raid in the neighbourhood out three successful raids and took 54 of St. Razoele.

AERIAL WARFARE.

LONDON, July 4.

Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig reporting on aviation, says: The weather on the 3rd was cloudy and enemy activity was slight. We destroyed six aeroplanes and drove down four others out of control.

During the day and night we dropped 16 tons of bombs on railway junctions at Lille, Courtrai and elsewhere. our machines returned.

NOVEL GERMAN PLAN TO CONTROL LABOUR INTERNATIONALLY

The Taeyliche Rundschan states that: appointed an ordinary member of Herr Erzberger, the leader of the the Executive Council of India in Centre party, is planning a great pro. succession to Sir William S. Meyer pagands in favour of international and economic peace. His scheme includesthe bringing about of agreements for placing British and American capital in German industry so that at least a half of the money in German industry shalf a be British and American, whilst inreturn German money will, to a great.

extent, be invested in England and America. This is to constitute the base for a German-British-American peace. " In this manner German industry will in future be under British and Americancontrol, and British and American industry under Germany. Furthermore, the three countries, which would thus establish a new world trust, would have identical labour legislation. The same plan was set out, a short time ago, in the

It is true that no tangible prints of their rule have appeared, with the exception of their action with regard to Spanish shipping; and even this is veiled in obscurity and may be either of a greater or less significance than it appears. The mysterious incident of the German who landed from a submarine at Alicante carrying a case containing explosives and a wireless apparatus has not been explained. After two days of sensational publicity in the newspapers the incident was simply dropped; not a word has been published since; and except that the man is still interned the public remains without information as to what was, to say the least of it, a remarkable occurrence. is probable that in this, as in the whole of their negotiations with Germany, the Spanish Government is by no means desirous of hurried or forced action; and it is almost certain that the Germans, since their failure to achieve a favourable decision on the battlefield has become more apparent, are also anxious to gain time and to let their relations with YOU events. From the time that he took commend in the Buttle of the Western Front, observers agree, his strategy has been to husband his men by defensive warfure, to inflict the heaviest possible losses upon the attacking enemy, and to acemmulate reserves for a rounter-offensive Foch's strategy, according to klilaire Belloc, is that of Napoleon, while the German High Command still follows the strategy, of Frederick the Great, Hence, he argues. Foch will continue to leave the initiative to Germany until he thinks the time is opportune, for a great counter-stroke t and Germany, in accordance with her theory of war, will continue her offensive as long as she has strength to strike. Writing in the "New man scheme in a single phrase: Military action must follow a previously determined line, and this must be pushed up to the limit where the adversary, in spite of all alternative plans he may hay formed, shall be compelled to submit to the initiative of his opponent.' In-other words, you win by making a plan and by following it out in detail after the fullest preparation and not by trusting to your own rapidity of judgment in the presence of several alternatives. It must be remembered in this connection that this idea is as old as Frederick the Great and that under it you win all or lose all. It is the child of victory, and it takes superiority over your enemy for granted) It has little defensive power, and if it is once broken that break is for good-

" Such a plan is in the very nature of the fundamental beliefs of the German school of war, and the contrast hetween it and the Erench school may discovered by any one who cares to reac the works of the two great exponents of either scheme, the Prussian General Bernhardi on one side and the French General Foch on the other. Each these authorities expressed the national system of strategy long before the war each taught it in the schools and each espoused it in his writings.

" Now, if you turn to General Foch's great work. The Conduct of War,' you will find exactly the opposite doctrine. It may, if you wish, be called the child of defeat (though its certainly does not produce defeat), for it received its full effect upon the French through their defeat in 1870. It is the doctrine the General' should foresee as much possible, should be ready with the greatest number of alternatives, and should rely upon his rapidity of judgment and the power of a vigorous mind and evelto change his plans at the critical moment. ### HONGKONG TIDES.

The tide-table given below has been compiled at the National Almanac Office in London from the result of the analysis of observations taken by means of an automatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Taim Sha Tsui during the years 1909-9. The zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the sounding in the Admiralty

Chart, which has been found to be 4 feet | Capons, mall -- Sin Kai .--3 inches below mean sea-level To obtain the depth or water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 3 feet 4 inches, and on the gange at Lamont Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 4 inches to the height given in the table.
